Shepshed Singers

Founded 25 years ago as a community choir of mixed voices, the Shepshed Singers has grown to about 50 voices drawn from Shepshed, Loughborough and surrounding villages.

Our repertoire is varied and wide-ranging, from classical sacred pieces to lighter music. We aim to present one major classical concert each year, also numerous performances for local charities, societies and private functions. In 1998 Shepshed Singers undertook a tour to Valkenberg, and have since visited Bruges, Barcelona and Prague. Our tour to Paris in April 2007 included performances in the cathedrals of Notre Dame de Paris and Chartres.

Andrew Goff has been Musical Director of the Shepshed Singers since 1984. He is an experienced choral trainer and conductor, and a freelance musician and composer. He regularly acts as tutor to singers and conductors on behalf of the national choral organisation Sing for Pleasure. He also works with local musical theatre groups. He is a member of Sine Nomine, the International Touring Choir
