

Shepshed Singers is a group of mixed voices from towns and villages in Leicestershire, England. The choir was founded over 25 years ago and for much of that time has been under the musical direction of Andrew Goff.

The Singers' repertoire includes a variety of sacred and secular pieces and the choir aims to present a major classical concert each year.

The choir's regular overseas tours have included visits to Bruges, Barcelona, Prague, Paris and this year, Amsterdam.

Andrew Goff is a freelance musician and teacher with a growing reputation as a composer and arranger of choral music. He works with several choirs and music theatre groups and is a member of Sine Nomine, the international touring choir. He is particularly interested in introducing singers and audiences to less familiar and neglected choral repertoire.

For further information about the choir, including how to book for an event or to become a patron, please visit their website at:
